

Company Profile

Founded in 1995, Corporate Environmental Risk Management, LLC (CERM) is an Atlanta, GA based full-service engineering, environmental and program management firm that provides customized solutions to its transportation, water resources, facilities, environmental and energy clients throughout the Southeastern United States. With additional offices in Mobile, Alabama and Orlando, Florida, CERM is also an award-winning Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) that employs more than 100 dedicated technical services and project management professionals. We offer a tailored service approach to solve engineering, environmental and construction challenges on time and within budget.

For 25 years, CERM has been vested in helping our clients protect their interests through an interdisciplinary approach involving the management, design, engineering and construction of their projects and facilities. Our project delivery process is built on a client-centered approach. This affords us the chance to truly partner with our clients to achieve the best outcomes to meet their needs. Our company-wide services encompass five essential areas: Program & Construction Management, Engineering Services, Environmental Management, Survey and Mapping and Remediation & Contracting. Each service unit is led by a professional with a minimum of 15 years of experience reporting to a seasoned Operations Manager possessing over 30 years of experience in the core service areas of business.

Specific to transportation, CERM has an established market focus with extensive project management and technical experience that includes aviation, transit, Departments of Transportation (DOT) and port authority clients throughout the southeastern United States. Within the state of Georgia, CERM is engaged in transportation projects such as GDOT Major Mobility Investment Program (MMIP) I-285/SR 400 project, MARTA Planning contracts including Summerhill BRT, and DeKalb County's Transit Master Plan.
